

"MY HEART CONDITION was extremely rare.
The doctor who cured it, even more so."

TERRIE HAMLIN WITH DAUGHTER SARAH, MERRIMACK, NH

"All my life, I was easily winded," Terrie Hamlin said. "I couldn't keep up with the other kids. Climbing stairs was difficult. I thought it was asthma or something.

"And then last year, at my daughter's dance competition, I started feeling chest pains. My doctor diagnosed it as a right atrial aneurysm, a condition that affects about one in 300 million people. She sent me right to Lahey Clinic for surgery."

The Heart & Vascular Center at Lahey Clinic is nationally recognized for quality care and positive outcomes. Patients come to Lahey because our top specialists work together as a team for quick and accurate diagnoses and treatment. Whether it's an extremely rare condition like Terrie's, or something more common, you know you'll be treated right.

At Lahey Clinic's Heart & Vascular Center, we're not just practicing medicine, we're advancing it.
